Flow Irrigation	:	Bordikarai FIS ,Monai FIS
Lift Irrigation	:	Dakhindol LIS (Pt-I & Pt-II)

PRESENT STATUS OF BORDIKARAI FIS

Out of NIA of 16,470 Ha. presently available area for utilization is 11,312 Ha. due to,

- Deposition of Debris including cobble, boulder, sand, gravel all along the entire 8.5 km reach of main canal.
- Decreasing main canal capacity approximately 2/3 rd of it's original carrying capacity.
- Decreasing capacity of branch canal system and minor canal system approximately 1/2 of it's capacity due to deposition of finer silt.
- Due to breaches of canal embankment and allied structure due to long use.

REASONS

- Huge quantity of boulders, cobbles, gravels and debris carried by the river Bordikarai during flood from the upper catchment area successively deposited all along the main canal and branch canal system.
- Heavier particles such as boulders, gravels deposited at head reach of canal system due to attending early fall velocity.
- Lighter particles of sand laden water which carried along with supplying water deposited along the bed of canal system.

REMEDIAL MEASURES TAKEN BY DEPARTMENT

Clearance of deposited boulders, cobbles, gravels and debris from the bed of canal system to maintain the design canal section so that design discharge can be maintained. Repairing of breached portion of embankment breaches due to long use. Repairing of canal CD works culvert, outlet and canal fall structure.

The CDC instructed the EE to prioritize the maintenance of ongoing irrigation projects to ensure their long-term sustainability.
